

TOWED 80 MILES.

Big Sulphur Whale Runs Away with Steamer.

A despatch from St. John's, N. F., yesterday says:

The whaling steamer Puma had an exciting experience last Friday, when she harpooned an immense sulphur bottom whale off Placentia. The projectile struck the fish in a non-vital part, about 15 feet from the tail, and the wounded monster started off at a high gait out of the bay, plowing the water up and towing the ship behind him at a 10-knot clip, although her engines were kept going full speed astern.

The whale ran as far as Burin Light, a distance of 10 miles, and then turned at right angles and crossed the bay to Cape St. Mary's, 45 miles more. From that it turned inward again and ran 25 miles towards Red Island, where, its energy being exhausted, it lay on the surface and was killed with a second shot.

In the earlier hours it kept up the 10-knot speed, but later it gradually dropped to three knots, though the propeller was reversed at full speed at the time. The ship was fast to the whale for 26 hours, with a block under the line and a man armed with an axe standing by to cut the line if there was danger of pulling the ship under.

BAD WEATHER OUT SOUTH.

Heavy Northeast Wind Was Blowing Yesterday.

Several Seiners Were at Fortress Monroe for Harbor.

A special to the TIMES from its regular correspondent at Fortress Monroe states that a heavy northeast wind was going yesterday and schs. Rival, Speculator, Constellation and Lottie G. Merchant were there for harbor. They reported seeing no mackerel yet.

MACKEREL ARE NOW DUE.

First Fish Was Taken One Year Ago To-day.

AND BROUGHT IN APRIL 9.

Record of the First and Earliest Trips Landed.

Just a year ago today the first mackerel of the season were taken, the lucky vessel being the new sch. Ralph L. Hall, Capt. Frank H. Hall, and in the early morning of the next day, April 9, the fare was landed at Fortress Monroe, and shipped by fast freight by William Bauch to George T. Moon of Fulton Market.

Thus far the reports from out south, as contained in the TIMES special despatches, have been far from encouraging. The seining fleet thus far has encountered much bad weather and no fish have been seen.

While all are anxious and hope to hear of an early arrival of a mackerel fare, there are many who think that last year's record will not be equalled for early fares.

In 1900, the first fare was landed at Delaware Breakwater on April 17 by sch. Ida L. Miller of New York, Capt. John McKinnon of this port.

In 1899, the honor of the first fare was divided, schs. Ida L. Miller, Capt. John McKinnon, and Storm King, Capt. Daniel A. Cogill, both arriving at Delaware Breakwater about the same time on April 28.

In 1899, sch. Ethel B. Jacobs, Capt. Solomon Jacobs, landed the first fare, reaching New York March 29. This was the earliest date on record since 1881, when Capt. Solomon Jacobs in sch. Edward E. Webster landed the first fare in New York on March 23, and sch. Nellie N. Rowe, Capt. Eben T. Lewis, landed a fare there next day.

The time is now ripe for the arrival of a mackerel fare and a trip may be reasonably expected at any time.
